

JUDGE W. H. HEEN DENIES MOTIONS IN SNYDER CASE

Defense Loses in Attempt to Quash and Demur Information in Labor Matter

Circuit Judge Heen today denied a motion to quash and overruled a demurrer to the sworn information in the case of E. S. Snyder of Seattle, Wash., who, with Frank Winter, an employee of the Metropolitan Meat Market; Pablo Manlapit, a former editor of a Filipino newspaper, and E. Cruz, a Filipino, are charged with illegally recruiting laborers for Alaskan salmon canneries.

Attorney R. W. Breckons, one of counsel for Snyder, first presented the motion to quash, the main grounds being that the information furnished by the city attorney's office was not verified by oath, and that the information does not constitute an offense against the laws of the territory. Deputy City Attorney Will T. Carden pointed out that the information was sworn to by City Attorney A. M. Brown, backed up by an affidavit from Detective Harry T. Lake. Judge Heen denied the motion.

The demurrer was then presented, the main ground being that no offense was outlined in the information. Judge Heen overruled the demurrer and Attorney Breckons then entered a plea of not guilty in behalf of his client. Exceptions were noted to both rulings of the court.

The question of whether the prosecution should be ordered to turn over to Snyder the sum of $2450 taken from him at the time of his arrest will be argued at 8:30 o'clock next Tuesday morning. It was the contention of the defense that this money is not necessary as evidence.

"And that is just where the prosecution differs," said Deputy City Attorney Carden. Snyder and Cruz were arraigned this morning and the taking of their pleas has been continued until 9 o'clock next Wednesday morning. Attorney Leon M. Strauss entered a plea of not guilty on behalf of Manlapit, who has been released on $2500 bond. The nine Filipinos who have been held as witnesses have been released on their own recognizance until 9 o'clock next Wednesday morning.

SUGAR EXPERT OF WASHINGTON IN ISLANDS

Cultural product of the group of states that had been members of the southern confederacy. That tax was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States, and from that day to this there has never been seriously considered a plan of raising through means of an excise tax on any crop, such a sum of money as it is now proposed to collect through the imposition of this proposed tax on sugar.

Conditions Are Different
This of course raises many interesting questions. It also serves to recall how the United States has expanded since the cotton excise tax was attempted. At that time our country had not expanded beyond the seas; the reciprocity treaty with Hawaii had not yet been negotiated, and Porto Rico and the Philippines were still loyal dependencies of the crown of Spain. So, should Congress, in fact, enact excise legislation affecting sugar it will prove an entirely new experience to the sugar producers in these various possessions who have heretofore been concerned with no fiscal legislation except the tariff. This statement also applies to the beet sugar producers in the United States whose industry only became a commercial factor to be reckoned with about the time of the Spanish-American war.

An excise tax would be handled, though the internal revenue branch of the treasury and this further recalls the fact that Louisiana and Hawaii are the only sugar producing sections of the United States and its possessions that have reason to vividly recall the last time that the treasury dealt with the sugar question through the internal revenue bureau. That was at the time of the passage of the McKinley bill, when sugar went on the free list. Hawaii temporarily lost the benefits of her reciprocity treaty but out of that trying ordeal learned how to produce cheap sugar. The cane producers in the United States were paid a bounty out of the federal treasury, and it was this bounty legislation that really brought the Western beet sugar industry into existence.

"Should Congress at the coming session again confide the administration of the new fiscal sugar legislation to the internal revenue branch of the treasury while continuing the existing moderate system of tariff duties only the future can tell what the effect will be upon the industry." In a general way the situation at Washington is in better shape than at any time during the past six years. There is a feeling even among those who were formerly in favor of free sugar that a mistake was made, and while the government is hard put to find revenues it is not likely that a serious effort will be made to repeal the tariff on sugar.

JAPANESE BANK BUYS U. S. BONDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 14.—The local branch of the Sumitomo Bank of Osaka, Japan, one of the largest banking houses in the island empire, purchased $50,000 worth of Liberty Bonds yesterday. Others who contributed to the Liberty Loan were: San Francisco branch of the Yokohama Specie Bank, $150,000; George K. Ushijima, the "potato king," $50,000; Dr. B. Okonogi, $1000, and several others for smaller amounts.

U. S. SOUNDS DEATH OF BATHING SUIT AS AVENUE TO LIQUOR

That a bathing suit worn by an enlisted army man is held to be a part of the uniform, and will be so construed by the military authorities especially in assisting to enforce the new order prohibiting the sale of liquor to soldiers, is the information received by local federal officials from department headquarters.

The military authorities say that a bathing suit, a tennis suit or a golf suit worn by men in the army is considered a part of the uniform of the military service, as well as any other type of athletic uniform. Because of this announcement, District Attorney Huber says that sale of liquor to an army man in a bathing suit, for instance, will be held to be a violation of the new law. He adds that an enlisted man in a bathing suit attempting to purchase liquor undoubtedly will be dealt with by the military authorities.

Federal officials have been informed that the seaside hotel has offered to assist the military authorities by exercising care in the sale of liquor to persons in bathing suits, especially to persons thought to be enlisted men. It is understood that Gen. F. S. Strong has personally taken up the matter with other beach resorts.

Drawback Repeal Would Give Java Sugar Advantage

The prediction of A. M. Nowell, secretary of the Sugar Factors Company, that if congress repeals the drawback clause in the tariff act as suggested by the senate finance committee, the European nations would draw on Java to a larger extent for their sugar is also voiced in a recent copy of Willett & Gray's daily, which says:

"The repeal of the drawback clause will encourage without doubt the purchase of Java white by the Allies, as it practically gives these sugars an advantage of one cent per pound over the American granulated."

The so-called drawback clause refunds to the refiners the import duty paid by them on foreign sugars when they are again shipped out of the country. At present Java ships only about one-tenth of its output to Europe, the rest, amounting to about 1,300,000 tons, she sends to Japan, British India, China and Singapore.

VICE-CONSUL OF CHINA ARRIVES

K. S. Li, the new Chinese vice-consul for Hawaii, arrived on the Manoa this morning, taking the place of Li Kung Hung, former vice-consul who was transferred to a similar position for his government at Singapore two months ago. For the last two years Li has been connected with the consulate in New York City. Seven years ago he was in Honolulu as secretary to the Chinese consulate. He married a Hawaiian-born Chinese girl, who died here last September.

Li had very little to say on the unsettled conditions in his native land. He has not been home for 15 years. Since Li left China he has also spent four years in Europe. He says there is not as much war excitement in New York as one might believe.

$5000 MORE OF BONDS BOUGHT

In order that anybody who found it impossible to subscribe to the Liberty Loan before the closing day but now has the money and wishes to buy a bond, Bishop & Company announced this morning that when it sent in its subscription it subscribed for several thousand dollars' worth of extra bonds. They were all of small denominations ranging from $50 to $1000 and may be purchased at any time.

As a result several people from the outside districts and the other islands this morning subscribed to $5000. Bonds subscribed for now do not increase Hawaii's share, but the extra bonds taken by Bishop Bank allows a larger number to own them.

CHAMBER PLANS FOURTH PROGRAM

Speeches by prominent men, singing by the Ad Club and the reading of the Declaration of Independence is the tentative plan outlined by the reception and entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce for the chamber's regular Fourth of July ceremonies, which will be held in the Palace grounds the morning of the Fourth of July.

The committee met Friday afternoon and besides these plans decided to ask the national guard to fire a salute. The boy scouts will be requested to be present and invitations will be sent to the Sons of the American Revolution, Daughters of the American Revolution and other societies to send representatives.

Control by the government of the production and price of coal from Illinois mines, unless speculators cease operations, was urged in a report of the conservation committee of the Illinois State Council of Defense.

PREVENT STRIKE

Stevedores Propose to Present New Wage Demands to Shippers

That there will probably be no second strike of stevedores July 1, and that an increased wage scale will be secured by arbitration in the meantime between the longshoremen and shipping interests of Honolulu, was the consensus of opinion today along the waterfront.

At the time of the first strike, which began September 18, 1916, the shipping firms made it clear that the stevedores should have presented their demands first instead of walking out. As it was, the strike dragged on for several weeks and the men won no victory. McCabe, Hamilton & Renny simply putting an increased wage scale into effect with the shippers' consent and taking the strikers back to work as they applied for employment. The union was never recognized. The increase was 50 per cent of the amount demanded by the strikers.

Reports along the waterfront today were that the proposed strike is being engineered by Charles Holoma, who was Honolulu local's delegate to the recent Seattle convention of Longshoremen of the Pacific.

Holoma is said to have told the local stevedores that he has seen Captain William Matson of the Matson line and that the captain had promised to use his influence to get more money and have the non-union lunas now employed by McCabe, Hamilton & Renny discharged.

Stevedores seen this morning by a Star-Bulletin reporter said a meeting will be held tonight in Poola (stevedores) Hall, Liliha street and Honolulu, at which a committee is to be appointed to draw up a statement of the men's new demands, which are said to be 40 cents an hour for day work and 60 cents overtime. One stevedore claimed the men would ask for 50 cents an hour for day work and $1 an hour overtime. The present wage scale is 30 cents an hour and 40 cents overtime. Before the strike last fall the scale was $2 for a 9-hour day and $3 for 9 hours of night and overtime work.

PERSONALITIES

H. M. GOODALE, son of W. W. Goodale, has passed his examinations and entered the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis. Two other Honoluluans, Roy Graham and Frank Winter, are now in their second year at the academy. Young Goodale was named by Delegate Kuhio.

Mayor-elect Fern has been ill at his home in Palama for the last few days. His condition is not serious.

Kim Hoon Tay, a Korean employed at Wilson & Co's quarry at Moiliili, sustained a compound fracture of the right leg this morning when a heavy boulder crushed him. He was treated at the emergency hospital and is now at the Queen's hospital.

BRIDE WITHIN FEW HOURS AFTER ARRIVAL

Clifford Spitzer, local businessman, was married this morning to Miss Violet Prager of New York City, who arrived a few hours previously on the incoming steamer from San Francisco. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Frank S. Scudder in the parlor of the Central Union church. The bride, an attractive brunette, spent a short time in the islands during the latter part of 1916, and her speedy return from the big metropolis is a fitting culmination to another of these island romances which owes its inception to tropic moons and Waikiki surfs. The couple will reside at the Seaside Hotel.

A Proclamation

The nations of the entire world, with few exceptions, are now at war.

The United States of America, through its Representatives in Congress, has decided it to be its duty and interest to take an active and leading part in this war. Its citizenship accepts the responsibility for all the cost in lives, tragedy and treasure.

Among those for whom this citizenship acts are the young, the innocent and the dependents.

To them the slaughter, the wounds, the destruction of war means a pitiful helplessness.

Children may help children. Children may, in the ways child heart speaks to child heart, send sympathy and material help to children now suffering.

I therefore recommend that the children of Honolulu, including the pupils of the public and private schools, meet together in the Capitol grounds on Friday afternoon, the twenty-second of June, at half past two o'clock, and there show the spirit of humanity and love the world has for ages been trying to attain, and bring such contributions as their generous impulses incline them to offer.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the Territory of Hawaii to be affixed.

(SEAL) DONE at the Capitol, in Honolulu, this Fourteenth day of June, A. D. 1917. (Signed) LUCIUS E. PINKHAM, Governor of the Territory of Hawaii.

By the Governor: CURTIS P. IAUKEA, Secretary of Hawaii.

J. Kennedy Tod offered his extensive Point, to the federal authorities as a site, Innis Arden, at Green as an aviation ground.
